The jersey handover was at this remarkable centre at Slovo which gets kids from the local creches to visit. They have constructed play, books, toys etc. The centre is on the border of Slovo so the little ones can walk there. The creches are housed in shacks in Slovo so these outings are miraculous for the kids. During the afternoons this centre functions as an after school facility where the school children can go for safety and supervised homework. This is the brainchild of "Aunty Lolly" aka Lorraine who is a lady from Bosmont who has very little herself yet what she has goes to the underprivileged. Transnet donated the building. This centre is run with virtually no funds and struggling to stay afloat. The poverty is extreme and the jerseys were regarded as extreme treasures. Thank you to you and the knitting ladies
